Annual Ice Cream Social

by Kim Battiste

Overcast skies and the threat of rain did not stop the ice cream social held on the Village Green in Smyrna. There were books and movies to browse through and purchase; face painting for the kids by Waddles the Clown; and Jim "Duck" Adkins & Blue Grass engaged everyone with music that told funny and realistic stories.

There were door prizes for all ages, and last, but not least—THE ICE CREAM from the Marble Slab Creamery, which was a favorite of everyone. And in spite of the heat, young and old and everyone in between had a wonderful time.
